Student Body Against It.
In the recent balloting, conducted by College Topics, the semiweekly paper published by the General Athletic Association, the student body of the university went on record as op-posed to a woman's college. Only 298 students voted, however, 248 voting "no" and fifty favoring such a proposi-tion. More than 800 students are en-rolled

Both advocates and opponents of the neasure expressed satisfaction at the outcome of the balloting. Henry Tay-ier, Jr., of Richmond, stated that it was highly gratifying to those opposed to the measure to learn that the sentiidedly against such a proposition.

Mrs. B. B. Munford expressed satis-faction at the outcome of the ballot, faction at the outcome of the ballot, since it showed a higher percentage, favoring such a bill than two years age, when only twenty voted for coordination. In denying that the Early-Rison bill was only a subterfuge, Mrs. Alunford said: "The Early-Rison bill provides for the creation of an undergraduate college, and leaves the establishment of graduate week to the tablishment of graduate work to the judgment and discretion of the board of visitors of the university."

The report of the foreign mission board of the Southern Baptist Convention showed that during the past year the missionaries on the foreign fields reported 4.52 baptisms, more than one-third of the number of baptisms reported during the year in North Carolina, with 2.600 Baptist churches and 1.700 Baptist preachers.

The contributions made through the board by Baptists of the South in the past year were shown to amount to $542,000, a decrease of $37.600 from what was contributed the year previous. It showed also that of the 23.600 churches in the Southern Baptist Convention, 10.023 of these churches made no contribution whatever to this cause, and that $62 of the 2.021 churches in North Carolina were included among those that contributed nothing. The report designated these noncontributing churches and the large number of churches which contribute but little to foreign missions as the greatest foreign mission problem to be solved. It was noted further that the Southern Baptist Convention has decided to raise $445.500 for foreign missions the coming year, and the apportionate to the State convention of North Carolina is $35,000.

What Women Have Done. What Women have been the report of the committee on woman's work showed that the Women's Missionary Union has contributed during the past year 10,522 to foreign missions, 10,224 to home missions, making a total of $35,663 to these nissions, making a total of $39,603 to home missions, making a total of $39,603 to these two causes.

The report of the board of trustees of the orphanage at Thomasville showed that during the twenty-eight years history of the orphanage 1.46 shidden have been cared for and at this time 414 are in the institution. Two new buildings are nearing completion at the orphanage and valuable bequeaths have been received recently, one of these being a farm of $75 acres, and the other a bequest of $15,000, which will be used in making needed improvements on the buildings now in use, and in the erection of others.

During the evening session M. L. Kestler, superintendent of the orphanage, disclaimed the report that children at the orphanage had been used as mere experiments in the test of the Dr. Von Rucek treatment for tuberculosis. He made explanations that under the supervision of the physician at the orphanage and himself, children who were known to have had tubecular parents were given this serum, and older children who knew their parents had died with tuberculosis, asked for the treatment.

Two sessions of the convention will besid on Friday, and the body will adjourn

AEROBUS IS WRECKED

Grahame-White's Flight From London to Parls Postponed.

[Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.] London, December 11.—Claude Grahame-White's attempted flight from the Hendon Aerodrome to Parls in an aerobus to-day was postponed when the planes of the machine were wrecked on a barbed-wire fence at Polkestone. Lord Drogheda and two engineers accompanied White when the machine left Hendon. The flight from Hendon to Folkestone was made in a heavy mist, and White descended to get his bearings. When he attempted to rise from the field the machine swept across a fence and was wrecked.

five years, which will check the whole-sale slaughter of birds, which threat-ens the total extinction of some species. The congress agreed to meet in Brussels, Belgium, next year, and the details of that congress will be arranged when the executive committee meets next spring. Pathetle Feature.

A pathetic feature of the concluding session was an appealing address made by the Hon. Henry E. Lanius, the blind State Assemblyman, of Pennsylvania, on "The Danger of Experiments on Hu-will be righted. But from personal observation of Pennsylvania institutions, I have noticed that the most successful ones are those which have the co-operation of women.

"After all," he continued, "the greatest objection to human vivisection is that it is practiced on the victims without their knowledge. If these scientists are so devoted to the pro-scientists are so devoted to the protice on themselves, and then they could tell all the symptoms every hour of the day and night much better than the victims could tell them."

Savage Is Ancestor.

"The savage is the ancestor of all higher men," said Professor J. How-ard Moore, of the Crane Ethical School, in Chicago, in a spirited address.
"There is not a man living who can trace his pedigree back indefinitely into the past without coming upon a naked, lowbrowed savage as his ana guineapig as if it were an inanimate thing has the psychological equipment to hold human beings as slaves in a little dimmer age than the present. I meet men every day who would have eaten their grandfathers and grandmothers in the jungle with a relish, if they had happened to hit existence at a convenient stage in human development.

"The cause of the wrongs of to-day is that man has 'anthropocentricism,' the doctrine of thinking he is the central fact in the universe. We act as if our species has had a different origin from the rest of the inhabitants of the earth and had been endowed with a special destiny and special powers and special powers and special destiny and special powers and special destiny and special powers and special powers and special destiny and special powers and special powers are special destiny and special powers and special powers are special destiny and special powers and special powers and special powers and special powers are special powers."

OBITUARY

State Assemblyman, of Pennsylvania, on "The Danger of Experiments on Human Beings."

The Assemblyman had the subject very close at heart, and in particular said:

"Vivisection is a relic of barbaric days, and must be stamped out. It is cruel and bears no results.

"There is no greater physical annoyance than tuberculosis eye, and no one is better able to Judge of this than I. Any man, scientist or not, who has used a test on an unsuspecting victim and can face this victim in after years has not advanced one step from his forbears—the barbarlans of ancient times."
